LIGHTS, CAMERA, SCIENCE!

What do soap, addiction, BPA (bisphenol A) and menstruation have in common? They were all winning topics in the District's first ever Science & Technology video contest. Initiated by Science & Math Program Consultant Ron Coleburn, four teams of students from two schools, Moscrop and Burnaby North captured their science savvy on film. Each team member received a gift card and a District certificate of achievement. Their winning films will soon be posted online.

IT TAKES A VILLAGE....

Education is everybody's business and we appreciate the following organizations for their support of public education in Burnaby schools.

Second Street Elementary was a runner-up 2016 Indigo Love of Reading Foundation's Literacy Fund grant program. The school received more than 1,500 new books that were generously donated by Disney Worldwide Publishing, Marvel Press, Disney Press, Lucasfilm Press, and Hyperion Press. These books will enhance the school
